HUTCHINSON, KANSAS.

The trouble with Emperor William's methods is that they are too tonic.

The "pull" as an agency in political affairs is about to be permanently abandoned.

The emperor himself will admit that old Bismarck has once more become a bigger man than young William.

Perhaps the chance to get a standing shot at a Chinaman was too great a temptation for that young man of Japan to resist.

The Delaware legislature also has a bill for the taxation of bachelors. It would serve that state better to tax all who engage in long senatorial contests.

Prince Bismarck's tribute to the first and third German emperors distinctly emphasized his silence as to the second. And yet, in intellect and character "Unser Fritz" was easily the greatest of them all.

In making war on window and billboard tickets the theatrical managers should go further and abolish litho graphs and the huge and glaring posters. The newspaper advertisement is the only reliable one.

Before the law visits its rigors upon the foreigners who violate the naturalization laws in ignorance, why not get after the inebriate rascals who try to get those foreigners falsely naturalized for partisan purposes?

If the enthusiastic celebrations of Bismarck's birthday count for anything as signs of popular feeling some of the reichstag members who voted to snub the ex-chancellor will presently be looking for employment in other fields.

The offer in New York of a prize for an epic poem has brought out over a thousand lengthy contributions. If a single memorable line can be found in the whole of them the competition is a good thing, but the chances are 100 to 1 against it.

The reason the train robbers in the Kentucky mountains were subjected to the unusual experience of being killed or dispersed was that they had let the officers of the railway company know in advance of the intended attack. Train robbers are not usually so considerate.

Oscar Wilde is said to be growing fat and untidy as the years roll by. His large physique is unimpressive, if not ungainly, and he pays no attention to the niceties of attire. The allegation is even made that his trousers do not fit him and bag at the knees, while his beringed fingers and his use of feminine-like, lace-bordered handkerchiefs suggest affectation.

Consul Tingle, at Brunswick, Germany, suggests to Americans that they might do well to export meat to Germany, as it is very generally used in many of the smaller cities and towns, and commands good prices. But the advice will not be followed. Horses are cheaper than cattle, but Americans have too much respect for the horse to ever regard him as a food product. The horse stands next to man in this country.

Under the direction of its new publisher, Col. Charles E. Hasbrouck, the Boston Traveler gives constant signs of progress and improvement. We knew that Col. Hasbrouck would infuse new life into the staid old journal, and the change for the better began just as an "L" was dropped out of the venerable Traveller's name. No traveler can keep up with the procession when hampered with more labels than Noah Webster (of blessed memory) allows.

Ex-Mayor Hugh Grant of New York takes exceptions to the newspaper reports that couple his name with those of different ladies in a matrimonial alliance. He says that it is not legitimate newspaper enterprise, and he is right. The newspapers have no right to couple the name of any young lady with that of Mr. Grant or any other man as engaged to be married without the permission of both the people most concerned. It is not news, but idle and perhaps malicious gossip.

General Booth has repaid some of the hospitality shown him in the United States by paying us several handsome compliments since he returned to England. One statement of his that must have sounded odd in the land of the established church was that Americans are a more religious people than the British, and that there is more church-going here than in England. What surprised General Booth more than anything else during his American tour was the audience of twenty-five thousand that greeted him at one of his meetings.

Chauncey M. Depew is reputed for his eloquence, but only a casual glance at his speeches and orations (as published) is required to assure one that Mr. Depew is careless in his use of English. Recently this gentleman addressed the graduates of the University of Chicago, and in the course of his address he said: "There is nothing so conservative as the college." What he meant to say was: "There is nothing else so conservative as the college." The omission of this necessary monosyllabic constituents that carelessness which is frequently met with in the discourses of the ignorant or the careless, but which should certainly not occur in an address prepared for an audience composed of students and scholars.

If we cannot see ourselves as others see us, the phonograph gives us a chance to hear ourselves as others hear us. Bishop Brooks said once he had one in his study for some weeks, and it was "lots of fun." He had learned things about himself which no one had ever taught him.

Rabbi Schindler of Boston, is evidently well up in the new criticism. The other day, when a lady asked him about Jonah and the whale, he said: "I don't know anything about Jonah, and I don't know anything about the whale. It's all the same as 'Tribby.' It's a novel."

A WAR ECHO.
EVERY HONORABLE VETERAN DESERVES HIS PENSION.

And the Lone Limb Is Not the Only Reason for a Government Reward Either.

(From the Journal, Lewiston, Me.) Samuel R. Jordan has just given the Journal an account of his life, which in view of his extremely hard lot for the past few years is of great interest.

"I am 48 years old and have always lived in New Portland. I enlisted in the army in 1862 as a private in Company A, Twenty-eighth Maine Volunteers. My army experience injured my health to some extent, although I worked at blacksmithing some part of the time, when suddenly, several years ago, I was prostrated with what able physicians pronounced Locomotor Ataxia. At first I could get around somewhat, yet the disease progressed quite rapidly until I had hardly any feeling in my legs and feet, they felt like sticks of wood, and I grew so much worse that I could not move for three years without help, as my neighbors and friends could testify. I employed several physicians in my vicinity, and elsewhere, and they all told me that medicines would not help me, that they could do nothing to effect a cure and that in time I should become entirely helpless. I became discouraged. I was a great care to my wife and friends. Shortly after I met an old army comrade, Mr. A. L. Parlin, a resident of Madison, Me., and he incidentally mentioned how he had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a severe case of rheumatism and a spinal and malarial trouble, that he had suffered with consequent of his army life, and had been greatly benefited by their use. By his earnest recommendation I was induced to try the pills. After taking them for a time I began to feel prickly sensations in my legs and a return of strength so I could move them a little. After a few weeks I began to feel a marked improvement in my condition. I soon was enabled to walk around a little with the help of crutches. After taking for some time I can now walk without crutches, my general health is much improved and I have regained my old-time vigor. I can walk about and enjoy life once more, for which I feel very thankful, and this happy result is due to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were first compounded as a prescription and used as such in general practice by an eminent physician. So great was their efficacy that it was deemed wise to place them within the reach of all. They are now manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred), and the public are cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Med. Co.

Atlanta claims the most complete and extensive water supply of any city in the United States. It comes from the Chattahoochee river, and could furnish 11,000,000 of people 100 gallons each every day indefinitely. One reservoir has a capacity of 200,000,000 gallons.

Owing to the fact that farms may be had upon the sole condition that they improve the land, many Norwegian immigrants have settled in British Columbia rather than in the United States.

The largest amount of farm income branched in New York. Next comes Iowa, then Illinois, followed by Pennsylvania, Kansas, Ohio, Wisconsin and Missouri, in the order named.

The mayor of Medford, Mass., the town of old rum, has appointed two young ladies as weighers of coal, grain and straw. Of course this has made the chronic office holders of the male persuasion so mad that they cannot even enjoy getting drunk.

Of medicinal agents is gradually relegating the old-time herbs to draughts and vegetable extracts to the rear and bringing into general use the pleasant and effective liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs. To get the true remedy see that it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only. For sale by all leading druggists.

Statistics are quoted to show that in New York City last year 347 fires were caused by coal oil, 280 by gas, 273 by matches, and only 48 by the use of electric light and power.

James Hume Canfield has been elected president of the Ohio State University at Columbus to succeed Dr. Scott who resigned to accept the professorship of philosophy.

Although the Missouri river has been flowing into the canal through the island above Atchison over a week, the current has not cut a channel, but on the contrary the canal is filling up with sand. It cost $15,000.

Perry Rice while burning some rubbish on his farm just North of Glen Elder, left it and went to dinner, thinking it could do no damage. He came back and found his house burned to the ground.

August Belgard, of Newton, 16 years old, has taken out a marriage license to marry Miss Millie Belair, 15 years of age. Master August's mother married Miss Millie's father, which would make them step-sister and step-brother.

Col. J. W. F. Hughes, hero of the "legislative war" of 1893, afterward court-martialed and dismissed from the militia service, has been appointed by Governor Morrill major general of the Kansas national guard, succeeding ex-Lieutenant Governor Daniels.

H. W. Kelley, sexton at the city cemetery near Atchison, was held up by a strange man near Watson's elevator and relieved of $37 in cash. The robber confronted Mr. Kelley with an ugly-looking revolver and ordered him to hand over his cash. He complied immediately, giving the robber $37, all the cash he had on his person.

Mr. H. P. Hood's farm residence on his ranch West of Americus was totally destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. The place was occupied by Charles Fiddler and family all of whom were away from the house at the time the fire started and the origin is unknown. The building was worth about $3,000 and was insured for $1,200.

Miss Lucy Reussegger, of the Everest school at Beloit was conducting a rehearsal for a school entertainment, in which one of the boys was to snap a pistol. He snapped the pistol supposing it was empty, but it was loaded, and the ball just grazed Miss Reussegger and barely missed a little girl's head and buried itself in the wall.

Information is coming in at Garden City representing heavy losses of cattle and horses by the three days' storm which blew out Sunday. Losses of from ten to fifty head of cattle are reported by so many small stockmen that the aggregate loss will be very heavy. A good many range horses also succumbed to the storm. There was a high wind continuously for over fifty hours.

Elliott S. Reynolds, a young attorney and member of the Bourbon county bar, was arrested Tuesday morning, charged with forgery. D. J. Stillwell, of Pittsburg, Kans., was the complaining witness. An officer has taken the prisoner to Girard for trial. Reynolds belongs to an aristocratic family, once wealthy, and has had several previous experiences similar to the predicament he is now in.

Persons near Abilene fortunate enough to be out of doors at 3 o'clock the morning after the storm saw a remarkable phenomenon. The hail, softened by the warm temperature, developed phosphorescent qualities, which made the ground appear as if sprinkled with balls of fire. Picking up the snow it gave the appearance of fire dripping from the fingers. The exhibition is not an unusual one at sea, but is very rare so far inland as Kansas.

James Sampson, a well known farmer living in the Missouri bottoms near Atchison, has been missing chickens in great numbers lately, and a few days ago 12 young pigs suddenly disappeared. He concluded that a pair of foxes which had been seen in that locality were responsible for the thefts. He tracked the animals to their lair, and killed both, in addition to seven young ones. All the pigs had been devoured, but a rabbit and four chickens lay in the hole untouched. Sampson dug into the hole and found hundreds of bones.

George T. Anthony, the newly-appointed insurance commissioner, has named E. H. Brown, of Olathe, to be his first assistant.

Kaffir corn is becoming an important factor in Kansas agriculture. The yield is not so large as other corn, but it is always a sure crop, as it stands drought much better than other crops.

Mabel Benton, the 16-year-old daughter of C. M. Benton of Effingham, was severely burned Saturday morning while burning some rubbish at her home. Her clothes were burned almost off before she could be rescued.

The people of Ottawa very sensibly destroyed the pest house before anybody else could be taken to it. Civilized people do not want their friends or relatives taken from their homes and put in such a place as the average smallpox hospital.

The annual convention of the Kansas State Sunday School association will be held this year at Salina, May 7, 8 and 9. The music to be in charge of Professor Excell of Chicago. The leading Sunday School workers of Illinois, Missouri and Kansas are upon the program.

Last November Mrs. W. B. Wagstaff dropped her pocketbook, containing $92, at Paola. A colored man grabbed it and made his escape, and has ever since evaded arrest. A few days ago Chief Speer, of Kansas City, telegraphed Sheriff Butts that his man was in that place. The sheriff went up and returned with his man.

The State Board of Public Works has elected L. H. Lescher of Topeka to be State architect, succeeding Seymour Davis. Mr. Lescher is a democrat. He was the choice of Michael Heery, the Democratic member of the board. Captain Seaton and Sol Miller were unable to agree on a Republican so they voted for Heery's candidate. The position is worth $2,500 a year.

Captain Harry Cavanaugh, U. S. A., stationed at the State agricultural college Manhattan, has been ordered by General Schofield to respond to calls of the commander of the Kansas National guard for inspection of troops. In accord with a new rule adopted by the State military department all troops will be inspected by a United States army officer twice a year.

A part of the Kansas university geological expedition, under the direction of Prof. S. W. Williston, has left for the fossil beds in western Kansas. The party consists of two men, who will remain in that part of the State all summer. The main party, which will comprise Professor Williston and a number of students, will leave in June for the Bad Lands and spend the summer there collecting specimens.

Johnny Manson, the 18-year-old son of John Manson, of Lancaster, was instantly killed Tuesday. He was handling manure in his father's orchard, and was standing in the front end of the wagon. The team coming to a sudden stop, he was thrown over the dashboard. This frightened the horses and they began to kick; lunging forward, they drew the wagon over Manson's head, fracturing the skull. He died a few minutes afterwards.

Miss Helen E. Price, formerly of El Dorado, was married September 26 last to Howard Ribinsky of Washington, but Washington knew nothing of it until Saturday, as she feared she would lose her place as copyist if the marriage was discovered. She was a protegee of the late Senator Perkins. The marriage was known from the first by her father, W. M. Price, and the rest of the family who live at El Dorado.

K. G. Fleming, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Dickinson county, died at his home near Solomon Tuesday night. Five days before he was thrown from a wagon by a runaway team, and fell in such a manner as to paralyze his whole body. He was commander of the Solomon G. A. R. prominently connected with the A. O. U. W., and one of the leading Presbyterians of Central Kansas. He was related to A. P. Collins and E. W. Blair of Solomon, and was a brother of Rev. Dr. Fleming of Wichita.

The schools have been opened again at Weskan after a siege of the scarlet fever.

Last Saturday at Florence, while assisting in moving a house, a stake pulled up and was thrown with terrific force against Ed. Winner. He died of his injuries.

That Tired Feeling

Is a certain indication of impure and impoverished blood. If your blood could always be rich and pure, full of the red corpuscles upon which the vitality depends, you would never be weak, or nervous! Boils, pimples, scurf, salt rheum, would never trouble you. But our mode of living, shut in all winter in poorly ventilated homes and shops, depletes the blood and there is loss of appetite, and weakness. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the standard remedy for this condition. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, builds up the nerves and gives perfect health. Read this:

"Our daughter, Blanche, when four years of age, had a humor break out on her hands and face, which our physician pronounced eczema. If the cold air reached her face or hands they would swell up, look almost purple, and headed blisters would form and break, Discharging a watery fluid, and the burning and itching would drive her nearly wild. Unless we encased her little hands she would tear patches of skin from her face and hands. We tried many doctors and many remedies and at last gave the case up as hopeless. But our daughter Cora tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, to cure a scrofulous lump near the left breast which caused her much pain and after taking 4 bottles it disappeared. Blanche, who is now eleven, had spent seven years of suffering, so I concluded to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She took 5 bottles and her face is smooth and soft as a baby's, the color of a rose petal. Her hands are soft and white, where four months ago they were blue and red and calloused nearly like leather. I cannot express my gratitude by pen or mouth. It seems a miracle and our friends are surprised." Mrs. ANNA L. CLARK, 401 E. 4th St., Duluth, Minn. Get only Hood's, because
